Human Charity Coin

Whitepaper 1.0

From the CEO's desk

"I would like to start out and thank the community at large and the team members who you see working in the light and the dark.

Ever since I have started following my Biblical faith more and more I have realized that all the money, belongings I can not take those with me when I transition to the new place knowingly that I have lived a selfish life while allowing my brother,sisters, children, widows and the homeless live a suffering life.

All proceeds that I receive for this Coin will always be used for my people who know my name. This ship has a captain which is open for ideas to reach the lost. If you are from a country which is not listed please contact a team member and see what we can do for you.

Our future plan is to be in hospitals and eventually accepting others who are going through a hardship which could be part of the sponsorship program"

Our initiatives are for the lost and homeless, abused women and children, widows and orphans..

Every human deserves a basic dignity and quality of life, be it hygiene, shelter, food, education or safety. This pandemic was an eye opener to the challenges life holds for the helpless who are stuck in bureaucracy or red tapism.

Our aim is to make our initiatives easily reachable and funded using the blockchain to overcome the challenges of geography and boundaries.

Global problem gets a digital solution

Cryptocurrency has, since inception, been viewed as a tool to bridge the global mass beyond demographic or political boundaries by trying a way out towards income equality and decentralization of power. Thus, one of the logical next steps would be to enable funding of the non-profit organizations. As of November 2018, the market cap on cryptocurrencies was approx. $417 billion. That definitely is a mass of wealth to tap into for charities.

But why has crypto become so popular for such initiatives?

- Transparency, speed and economical donations means money reaches where needed irrespective of the centralized rules and regulations.
- Low and almost zero processing fee makes the funding collections more worth than in normal currency where taxes and transaction fee burn a hole in both sender & receiver's pockets.
- Privacy of blockchains encourage more money lying hidden to be utilized for greater good and also increases the donor base.
- Cross border and global donation network and outreach is possible in a matter of a few seconds irrespective of traditional methods.

Past Initiatives

Our top success stories so far

Magda's soup kitchen for the homeless

Magda's soup kitchen is run by a philanthropic lady Magda in South Africa where she works to feed 2000 homeless people and orphans every month. We had joined hands and helped them by buying gasoline for her car to get to the different places and also raised money to buy food for the homeless people. Our donors collected enough to run the initiative for more than 6 months. The project was a huge success and was appreciated by the community and the receiver's alike.

Sarrtjie Baartmen Center for women and children

The Saartjie Baartman Centre is a one-stop centre for abuse survivors aimed at empowering through accommodation, counseling, legal help, skills training & more. Our community joined the initiative and donated clothes and diapers and other baby items for the new born children and their mothers at the center.

The Alta Du Toit School for the specially abled

The school prepares learners for their life's journey taking individual challenges into account. Our community came forward with a donation of $200 per month per person for a regular supply of breakfast and lunch to 60 students studying in the school. They were closed for the Covid situation and we plan to resume this service in the coming days.

Future Plans

Philanthropic initiatives in future pipeline

Any big project involves overseeing a lot of moving parts, oftentimes from different people. To have a successful global rollout, the community, plans to come forward with the backing of the Human Charity Coin to help charities in need of aide and support. We aim to provide funding for Human empowerment, Environment maintenance and wildlife conservation.

“True philanthropy requires a disruptive mindset, innovative thinking and a philosophy driven by entrepreneurial insights and creative opportunities.”

Future projects in the pipeline are primarily targeted towards but not limited to developing nations like African countries, Indian subcontinent and South East Asian countries.

Our first priority will be to come forward in any natural disaster since we have all experienced how the pandemic crippled life of millions. Next to that our mission is to grow our donor community globally and come forward as help charities by providing them basic amenities like food, clothing, medicines or hygiene products. Gradually, we plan to extend our help towards nature conservation projects like waterbodies or mountains cleaning and conservation.
